About Me

Adaptive and detail-oriented Frontend Developer specializing in building high-performance user interfaces with a strong emphasis on code quality, UI consistency, and optimal client-side performance. Proficient in translating product requirements and design specifications into scalable, reusable components with efficient rendering and robust state management.

Experienced in architecting frontend applications at scale, managing complex data flows, optimizing render performance, and integrating RESTful APIs. Committed to writing clean, modular code that enhances team collaboration and long-term maintainability.

Skilled at working cross-functionally with backend engineers and product teams to deliver features that meet business objectives while maintaining exceptional user experience and technical excellence.
